Cleveland, O., December 31.—W. W. Sly, president, and George J. Fanner, vice president of the W. W. Sly Foundry Company, were murdered by five pay roll bandits who escaped with $4,200 in cash after holding up the two men at the company's plant this morning. Sly and Fanner died instantly.

The two company officials were returning from a bank in an automobile with the payroll. While crossing a bridge at the plant two automobiles crowded their machine driven by Sly, forcing him to crash into the bridge railing to avoid a collision. The bandits then jumped from their machines and demanded the payroll.

When Sly attempted to draw a revolver the bandits shot and killed him and Fanner and then escaped in one of their cars.

Police say both automobiles used by the bandits were stolen.

Youth Gets 20 Years for Stealing $35 in Hold-up.

(By Associated Press)

New York, December 31.—One of the men snared in the police dragnet to catch robbers and hold-up men is believed by District Attorney Lewis of Brooklyn, to hold knowledge which, if revealed, might clear the mystery surrounding the murder here last summer of Joseph B. Elwell, wealthy whist expert and turfman.

He is Geo. L. King, now under arrest, who expressed willingness to plead guilty to robbery in connection with a hold-up November 22 last.

The district attorney declared King appeared desirous to be sentenced quickly so as to hasten his departure from here. His mode of living was similar to Elwell's, including card playing for big stakes and making acquaintances of wealthy men along the "gay white way" and at fashionable summer resorts who would play "big games."

He added that King, like Elwell, "played the ponies."

Edward Cleary, 19 years old, convicted of first degree robbery in connection with a hold-up netting $35 was sentenced to 20 years in Sing Sing today.

Charges of violating the Sullivan law were filed against two young men today wearing tortoise shell glasses and wearing the long hair of the "ultra-poets" when arrested.

Police said the pair had admitted being implicated in several recent robberies.

Lookout

(By Associated Press)

New York, December 31.—One hundred prohibition enforcement agents will mingle among the crowds in hotels and restaurants along the "white way" tonight and "assist" celebrators to extend a dry welcome to the new year.

The agents, who will be split up into small flying squads, have been instructed to clamp the lid down.

Managers of leading hotels have ordered their employees not to handle liquor "in any way," and the indications point to a safe and sane greeting to 1921 instead of the revelry in years gone by, when it was deemed fashionable to launch a new year amid the popping of champagne corks.

TARIFF CHANGE AROUSSES PENROSE

Thinks Tariff Should be Taken Up With Careful Consideration.

Says Bonus Proposed Closely Involved With Raising Revenue

(By Associated Press)

Washington, December 31.—Opposition to the House emergency tariff bill and to the passage at this session of the soldiers' bonus bill was indicated today by Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, who returned to Washington yesterday after an absence of nearly a year occasioned by serious illness.

"I don't look with any amount of enthusiasm on any emergency tariff legislation," said the Senator.

"I think the tariff and revenue are questions that ought to be taken up as a whole in a careful, thoughtful, dignified way, after full conference with the President-elect and whoever may be secretary of the treasury."

Senator Penrose was asked whether he agreed with statements that high tariff would restrict trade with Europe limiting Europe's capacity to pay indebtedness.

"There is a good deal in that," he answered.

Regarding the soldiers' bonus bill he said:

"I believe in doing something for the soldiers that will meet conditions and be satisfactory to them."

He added, however, that bonus legislation was "very intimately involved with the questions of raising revenue and the tax bill."

NEGRO ACCUSERS ROUSE WRATH OF SOUTHERN SOLONS

(By Associated Press)

Washington, December 30.—Wholesale charges of wilful discrimination against negroes at polls in southern states were made by representatives of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People today before the House Census Committee and brought forth vigorous objections from committee members from the South.

The first charge made by the representative brought but a storm of denial that gathered in volume as the session progressed.

The appearance of a photographer caused southern members to declare they would not sit in a group the back ground of which was formed of negroes, a large number of whom were crowded into the room.

Representative Aswell left the room, but Representative Larson informed Chairman Siegel he did not intend to leave the room and would raise "hell" if the picture were made with the spectators as a background.

The committee finally went into executive session, thus clearing the room.

JURY STILL OUT CLAIM MAJORITY FOR CONVICTION

Rumor Says Ten For Conviction Of Cleveland Judge

No Indication of How Long Th Jury Will be Held

(By Associated Press)

Cleveland, O., December 31.—The jury which holds the fate of Chief Justice William H. McGannon of the Municipal Court, apparently was as far from agreement when it resumed deliberations today as when first halting began at 1:15 o'clock on Wednesday evening, after being out approximately 29 hours.

Reports were current in the courtroom that after thirteen ballots had been taken, the jurors stood ten to two for conviction.

Two ballots were reported taken Wednesday night and eleven yesterday. Judge Bernon would not say early today how long he would hold the jury.

TAKE 32 BALLOTS

When the jurors went to lunch today it was reported about the jury room a total of 32 ballots had been taken since the case was placed in their hands Wednesday night.

The result of each vote was the same—ten for conviction and two for acquittal—according to the latest gossip.

It was rumored this afternoon the jury would be discharged at six o'clock tonight unless it agrees on a verdict this afternoon.

DEMAND FOR COAL LESS THAN USUAL

Supply of Coal on Hand is Better Than For Some Time, Dealers Assess.

Local coal dealers stated Thursday that not for some time has there been as much demand for coal as there is at present and that not for some time has there been the general supply on hand that is now in the city.

One of the largest dealers declared that in telephone conversation with coal men in the cities of Cincinnati, Columbus and Dayton, he had been advised of full supplies all over Ohio and that the same condition exists all over the country.

One of the main contributing factors that brought the new condition about is the mild winter, the dealer said.

This dealer also asserted that possibly here now seem very well supplied with fuel.

FLOCK OF GESE HEADED NORTHWARD

Has the winter broken?

This was the question that many citizens asked themselves and their neighbors Friday when a large flock of wild geese were noticed winging their solitary way northward about the town square.

There is a belief of long standing that the weather can be forecasted by the migration of these birds—if going south, cold weather is at hand, and if going north, winter has broken.
In this particular instance, however, it is believed that the birds fly by.

ing year this city before in eastern Fayette, where for many years a large flock has wintered, and were probably making a comparatively short flight changing their course before going for northward.

SOCIAL : PERSONAL MENTION : CLUBS

With much interest relatives and friends of Mr. Russell B. Keller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Keller, of Sandusky are learning of his recent marriage on the twenty-ninth, and bringing his bride to this city Thursday evening for a short visit with his grand parents Mr. and Mrs. George Bybee.

The society columns of the Sandusky Star-Journal contain the following account of the wedding.

"Among the many December weddings which have been of unusual interest to the younger social set of the city are the nuptials of Miss Dorothy Faye Cochran, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred P. Cochran, of Mansfield, and Russell B. Keller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Keller of this city, take a foremost place.

"The wedding ceremony was performed Wednesday, at half after three o'clock at the Congregational church, before an assemblage of friends and relatives of the young people. Dr. Chas. H. Small officiated, using the beautiful double ring ceremony.

"Preceding the ceremony Charles Hoke beautifully rendered the solo, 'Oh Promise me,' and later the strains of the Lohengrin wedding march pealed through the church and the bridal party entered.

"The bride looked charming in a frock of peach bloom satin, combined with silver ribbon and her hat was designed of peach bloom tulle and silver ribbon streamers. Her slippers were also of silver tone. She carried an exquisite bouquet of Ophelia roses.

"Miss Geraldine Hotchkiss, a class friend of the bride acted as bridesmaid and she was gowned in a dress of Jade green georgette combined with black lace and her picture hat was of black. She carried an arm bouquet of roses. Clyde Sloat acted as best man.

"The ushers included Edwin Buder, Howard Fisher and Clarence Stockdale all college men and friends of the groom.

"The joyous strains of the Mendels-

Following the wedding a reception was held at the Keller home in Huron Ave. to which about forty relatives and friends were privileged. Later in the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Keller left on a wedding trip south and after January 10, they will be at home to their friends in a cozy furnished apartment at 512 Huron Ave.

"Out-of-town guests present at the wedding included: Mr. and Mrs. Alfred P. Cochran and daughter Marjorie of Mansfield; Miss Mildred Mahan and Miss Kathryn Ackerman of Cleveland; Miss Elizabeth Stewart, of Norwalk, who was the bride's roommate at Lake Erie College, now a student at Vassar and William Pope of Oberlin who is home for the holidays from Dartmouth College."

Honoring the birthday of her sister, Mrs. A. L. Willis (Nina Minshall) of Marion, Mrs. Maude Weiner gave an elegant dinner, Thursday.

Pink and white carnations, and a birthday cake with thirty candles formed the central table embellishment.

Seated with the hostess, Mrs. Willis and little son, Lewis, who have been visiting relatives here, were Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Weimer, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Backenstoe and little daughter, Dimple, Mr. and Mrs. Hughey Backenstoe and little son, Hughey Jr.

Miss Dora Mae Stewart and Miss Lizzie Ellen Green delightfully filled the role of hostesses, Thursday evening and night, entertaining for Miss Opal Stanforth, of Granville, who attends Denison University and is visiting relatives here, and Miss Mina French, home from Oberlin Business College for the holidays.

Miss Stewart gave a theater party, and taffy pulling afterwards at her home on Columbus avenue.

The guests were also seated at a beautifully decorated table for refreshments. A blue and gold color scheme was carried out, the centerpiece yellow narcissi and blue birds, and there were blue bird candles on either side. Attractive little gold baskets the handles tied with blue, were favors.

At the Green home on Washington avenue, there followed a jolly slumber party.

Sweet peas were effectively used in decorating the table for the ten o'clock breakfast, Friday morning.

The guests with the honor guests were Misses Bernice O'Brian, Marie Bushong, Chloe Anderson and Wanda Mae Norris.

The Christian Endeavor Society at the Church of Christ is entertaining with a Watch party this New Year's Eve, and extends an invitation to all the members, and young people of the church, with their friends, to participate.

A good program has been arranged by the committee, Miss Jane Williams chairman, and an enjoyable evening is anticipated.

Mrs. F. M. Bottenfield of Sabina, spent Thursday here at the residence of her brother J. M. McKay on N. North street. She brought with her Helen Pavey, a niece also of Sabina and Alberta Snyder, of New Antioch, her grand-daughter.

The occasion was Ruth McKay's twelfth birthday, which followed the next day after her aunt's. The girls are about the same age as Ruth and they had a happy day together.

Mr. and Mrs. Pearl Lemons of the Chillicothe pike gave a delightful surprise party Tuesday evening for their daughter, Helen, in honor of her eighteenth birthday.

The rooms were adorned with the usual Christmas decorations, and the evening was spent in music and games. Ralph Marchant won the prize in the "Buzz" contest. There was also "Fortune telling" by an "Indian Princess." Miss Dorothy Kneisley.

The guests, led by the honor guest were ushered into the dining room, which was lighted by only the candles on the large birthday cake. Dainty refreshments were served.

Miss Lemons received a number of pretty gifts. Mr. and Mrs. Lemons were assisted in entertaining by Mr. and Mrs. Allie Lucas.

Those present were: Misses Thelma Marchant, Dorothy Kneisley, Norma Dodd, Helen Garringer, Cozella Townsley, Dorothy Arnold and Helen Lucas, Wm. Markley, Robert James, Ralph Kearney, Wm. Lucas, Paul Slusher, Leonard Barr, Ralph Marchant, Harold Glass, Stanley Slusher, Carl Lemons.

Mrs. Bay's Bible Class met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wright the evening of December twenty-eighth.

The president called the meeting to order and opening number was a song. Mrs. Homer Wilson had charge of the Devotionals. Seventeen members answered to roll call, and after the interesting lesson hour an enjoyable social time was spent.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hower Wilson Wednesday evening January 12.

Miss Carolyn Willis entertained with a six o'clock dinner, of lovely appointments, Thursday evening, honoring her guest, Miss Jessie Spiker, of Clarksburg, W. Va., her room-mate at the University of Michigan. The central adornment of the table was a beautiful Chinese begonia in fancy wicker basket.

This is the first time during the holiday season that the Sour Pickles with the exception of Miss Bessie Casey, who is at her home in Muscle Shoals, Ala., for the holidays, and Miss Margaret McDonald have been together and the dinner hour was one of much merriment.

Covers were laid with the hostess and honor guests for Mrs. Carrie B. Willis, Misses Jean Fitzgerald and Lora Ellen Tharp of Columbus; Mrs. Walter E. Hutton, of Frankfort; Misses Mary Alice Culhan and Jeanette Weaver.

Following the dinner Miss Fitzgerald entertained the guests at a theater party.

Miss Helen Rodecker, the young daughter, of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Rodecker, added to the pleasure of the girls and boys of her own little coterie in two delightful holiday parties Thursday.

In the afternoon four tables of girls enjoyed a game of progressive rick, in which Miss Lillian Teeters won the prize.

The same game provided entertainment in the Evening, with seven tables of both girls and boys. Miss Dorothy Donohoe and Frank Hamilton won the favors in the evening's game.

The home looked very pretty with Christmas plants and a water garden of Narcissi, and at both affairs delicious collations were served, Mrs. Woodson Catering.

The young hostess, wearing a smart and becoming frock of brown velvet, was assisted in the hospitalities by her mother and Mrs. Frank Perrill.

Miss Beata Haines was a very charming young hostess at one of the prettiest and gayest of the Junior set's holiday parties on Thursday afternoon entertaining in compliment to Miss Lorie King and her guest, Miss Rosemary Ellerbrock, of Utica, N. Y., both of whom are students at the College of Music, Cincinnati.

The Haines' home, roomy and hospitable, was redolent with flowers in tasteful arrangement. White narcissi and fern were used in the music room, vivid scarlet poinsettias in the living room and sun parlors, and white narcissi and carnations in the dining room.

Sixty girls and boys responded to the invitations and participated in a jolly, good time. A taking feature was the dividing of the guests into groups of four for quartet singing and an informal program of popular songs, sung with much individuality and various stunts.

Mrs. Frank E. Haines, Mrs. John King and Mrs. Hays Dill assisted in the hospitalities. Mrs. Ione Bryant catered for the elaborate collation served.

Miss Haines was wearing a modish gown of dark blue tricotine, with corsage of pink sweetpeas.

We have gone over entire stock of goods from top to bottom, with a view of giving as near pre-war prices in this sale as we possibly can.

In many instances we have marked these goods absolutely below cost; in other cases where we have been able to go into the market within the past few days and take advantage of spot cash buying—we are able to offer good merchandise at lower prices than you have heard in three years.

Manager Harold McLean announces that the Triangles will meet the Pure Oil Company team of Columbus. In scheduling this team for a game here there is more than usual interest because of the personnel of the squad.

HARTMAN THEATER COLUMBUS

One of the the most charming diversions the theatre has offered in many seasons is the Guy Bolton and George Middleton comedy of American home life, "Adam and Eva," which comes to the Hartman for a limited engagement Thursday night, January 6. The engagement is one of three nights and a Saturday matinee.

With a wealth of brilliant lines and characters typically human it satirizes the fads and weaknesses of the smart set of society in a manner that is most amusing. The company which will interpret this charming play, which F. Ray Comstock and Morris Gest are sending direct from Chicago, is headed by Molly McIntyre, William Boys, Berton Churchill, Percy Waran, Bessie Fattison, Arnold Lucy, Philip Tonge, John Thorn, May McCabe and Maria Namara.

There are no strings to the suggestion; you incur no obligation whatever by getting our opinions and advice about your tires. ABOLISH CUSTOM OF RECEIPT FOR SPECIAL DELIVERY

The Washington C. H. post office, and in fact all others, is in receipt of orders from the Postmaster General to abolish the practice of issuing receipts, for special delivery letters or mail.

The special delivery mail will be delivered as promptly as ever, it is announced, but no receipt will be presented for signature.

All special delivery mail to be delivered to the addresses or to the persons authorized to receive it and if delivery cannot be made to persons it will be placed in mail boxes and a notice left under the door.

The announcement said the change was in keeping with a plan to use the special delivery system notably for expediting mail matter and not for safe-guarding it, a function cared for by the registry system.

EXPECTING MANY WOMEN TO ATTEND WRESTLING BOUTS

Large Crowd Expected at Memorial Hall When Kotsenaros and Cliff Binkley Meet Here Monday Night.

With wrestling and boxing placed on a more substantial basis than ever before now that the local post of the American Legion has taken these sports under its wing, it is confidently expected that the largest crowd of fans witnessing a bout here will see the Kotsenaros-Binkley grapple at Memorial Hall Monday night.

The legion is urging the attendance of women for the matches and the mode of conduct at the shows is to be of the highest. "No rough stuff" is the motto.

Absolutely no betting will be permitted as far as the Legion is able to curb the practice.

The Ohio State Journal had this to say of the match here when the two heavyweights signed for the bout:

"Among those who have witnessed Cliff Binkley and George Kotsenaros work out, there has been a desire to see these two fellows meet in a finish on a wrestling mat. On Jan. 3 this will happen at Washington C. H., where the American Legion post of that city will feature these big fellows in a match to a finish."

When the match was proposed yesterday both men were at the Athletic Club gym, and while each smiled an acceptance of the date and match, a close look at either would warrant that there will be plenty of action for Washington C. H. fans."

It was announced Friday morning that her condition was increasingly grave, and that her chances for recovery were dwindling.

School Teacher Needed Brains

"I never have had such a 'Godsend' come to me as when I took the first dose May's Wonderful Remedy. I was afraid I would have to give up my school because of severe stomach, liver and bowels trouble which caused such a pressure of gas that I could not use my brain at times, and my heart would palpitate awfully. Since taking a treatment of May's Wonderful Remedy a year ago, all this has disappeared." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Blackmer & Tanquary and Frank Christopher and druggists everywhere.—Advt.

BRITAIN OPENS WAY FOR INFUX OF DYES INTO UNITED STATES

Washington, December 29.—By the passage of the dyestuffs import regulation act Great Britain has definitely accepted the theory that poison gas will be the supreme weapon of the next war, and at the same time has opened the way for the entry of German dyes into this country, according to the views expressed Tuesday night by chemical experts of the government.

The British act which became a law Monday, prohibits the importation of dyestuffs into Great Britain for ten years, which government experts declare will enable England to build up dye industry to a point of complete independence from the outside world.

Poison gas and dyestuffs both come from coal tar, it was explained, and from the manufacture of the commercial article to the production of the military weapon it but another step in a continuous process.

PUBLIC SWIMMING POOLS ADVOCATED

Paris, (By Mail)—The Paris Municipal Council has decided that public swimming bath are not only a necessity but that they are likely to prove a paying venture and has asked the city architects to prepare plans for three baths to be erected in Paris within 18 months. The only swimming baths in Paris except for those moored along the Seine banks which although popular in the summer months, prove no attraction in winter.

The probable cost of each establishment is estimated at 3,000,000 francs. Delegates from the Municipal Council have been sent to Alsace to inspect the bath there. The Paris baths are to be modeled after those in Strasbourg.

MUCH SMUGGLING ACROSS BORDERS AROUND GERMANY

Berlin, (By Mail)—Smuggling over the Dutch and Danish frontiers, which the German government has gone to great effort to suppress again is flourishing "on a colossal scale" and at some points with the full knowledge and connivance of many government officials, according to reports reaching here. Smugglers are declared to be outbidding the government for the aid of dishonest officials and the "veritable army of custom officers on the borders have permitted millions of marks worth of tobacco, cigars, cigarettes, coffee and sugar to cross the border duty-free within the last few months."

Flying squadrons of custom officers have been organized by the government to catch the smugglers who are said to have so thoroughly systematized their operations that "Customs receipts are rapidly falling back to nothing, for custom control is again only on paper."

The scorn of egotism is as harmless as the shurs of ignorance.

FIRE HOSE IGNITES WHILE WATER WAS BEING SENT THRU

Boston, (By Mail)—So much public interest has been aroused by the phenomenon developed in tests of fire hose here when when flames broke through cotton coating of the hose through which water was being forced at high pressure, that the Fire Commissioner, John R. Murphy, has been receiving requests for information from all over the country.

Ignition of a fire hose while water was being pumped through it though no fire was near, is something new to those who consider the fire-fighting business as a science. To determine the cause of this peculiar incident and ascertain how to avoid it, the Boston Fire department will undertake a series of tests and experiments.

Might Be Best

Right now the prohibition enforcement officers and organizations of the federal government are being subjected to a great deal of severe criticism because of the ease with which whisky is obtained from the government warehouses where it has been kept locked up since the eighteenth amendment became effective.

Millions and millions of gallons of whisky are withdrawn under "medical purposes" permits. The humorous are poking fun at the authorities for being such easy marks for those who traffic, illegally, in intoxicants, while the more seriously inclined are making the atmosphere blue with their denunciations of officials who are so lax in the discharge of their duties that the whole prohibition cause is jeopardized.

So far as the prohibition cause is concerned we see nothing harmful in the fact that the big store of liquor is being exhausted.

The illegal traffickers are doing more by sawing off the limb on which they are perched, to bring an end to whisky peddling than the most vigorous law enforcement could do.

It may be all for the best and it really looks now as though there was little real cause of complaint against the officials although their action may not be strictly legal.

Newcomers to Our Columns

It is a pleasure to announce that, with the coming of the new year, there will appear daily in the columns of The Herald three new friends which we hope, and believe, will be as popular with our big family of readers as Mark Sullivan's political correspondence, Jiggs and Maggie and their daughter, and other features.

These new features are Woodland Tales by Earnest Thompson Seton, than whom there is no better, no more interesting nor no more instructive writer in this or any other land on stories of our wild life. These Woodland Tales are splendid for youngsters and oldsters alike. There is no better service offered to the reading public than Woodland Tales which will appear daily in The Herald.

Another feature to begin the first of the year is the Bible questions and answers. We have felt that more familiarity with the Bible, its teachings and principles, would be helpful to the people and the nation in these times of anxiety and The Herald is to run this new and highly endorsed feature with the hope of aiding the back to the Bible reading.

The Young Lady Across the Way will also be a daily visitor to Herald readers after the first of the year. Her unique observations are high class humor and are pointed too as showing the shallowness of mind of those young folks who are not closely attentive to the big things about them.

The Young Lady will be a daily laugh provoker to all, and a daily warning to the frivolous young folks by showing them just how ridiculous they appear with some of their "flat" observations.

What of The State

We, of this state, have been so interested, since the election, in the comings and goings of President-elect Harding and speculating about what he as going to do and what he was not going to do—in other words, absorbed with national political affairs—that we have been giving little attention to the fact that in January an entire new state administration, from governor down through the whole list of state officers, will assume control of our state affairs.

Governor-elect Davis has not been very much in the spotlight. Perhaps he is modest and prefers to do his work from less conspicuous locations and, possibly too, he has not been able to push past the national figures and get a place in the center of the stage.

Really the people are very much concerned about what Governor-elect Davis is going to do when he assumes control of the executive branch of the state government. We are all anxiously waiting to hear what the program of taxation reform will be, what is to be done about road building and what, if any, economies are to be recommended and practiced by the incoming administration.

KNOX'S VISIT WITH HARDING REVIVES TALK OF OPPOSITION

Mark Sullivan Sees in Statement Ultimatum of Irreconcilables

Believes Knox Does Not Stand Alone in Proposal Made To Harding

Carefully Prepared Statement
Given Out to Newspaper Men.

BY MARK SULLIVAN
(Copyright 1920)

Marion, Ohio, December 31.—Senator Knox of the irreconcilables came here today and, in the judgment of more mature observers, who watched the episode, either took the President elect into camp or else threw a challenge into Harding's teeth. My own judgment is that the latter is what happened and a thorough-going cleavage is now between Harding and the irreconcilable senators, between those friends of the league of nations who have been to Marion recently and who thought Harding would build his new association on a part of the present league and, on the other hand, those irreconcilables who insist that the present league must be scrapped, killed, buried and kept buried. Not all the episode is on the public record and parts of the narrative must be pieced out by deduction. Knox made it clear that he had come in response to a telegraphed invitation. My guess, in the light of other events is that the invitation was sent by Harding because he heard that there was incipient rebellion among the irreconcilable senators and he hoped to smooth it out.

Apparently the news had come to Marion that the irreconcilable senators were muttering about Harding's repeated consulting with such friends of the league as Taft, Hoover, Bryan, Strauss and others. There is evidence that Harding's reaction to that discontent was to send the trusted Harry M. Daugherty to Washington to pour vicarious oil on the waters. That failed and then followed the invitation to Knox to come to Marion. Knox came. He arrived before breakfast. He took breakfast with Harding and several others. Then Knox and Harding went into Harding's office and closed the doors. Nearly two hours later Knox left Harding's office and stepped down to the house where all the newspaper men are. This was nothing unusual all the "best minds" after they have had their conference with Harding come down to talk to the newspaper men. That is the routine. But there was all the difference in the world between the manner in which Knox came and the way in which the recent "best minds" have come trailing, an aura of ingratiation and peace from their late contact with Harding. And there was all difference in the world between the innocuous words of harmony that the "best minds" have been giving out and the distinctly "here I stand" manner and words of Knox.

Some one asked Knox the stock question, if he felt that Harding was going to achieve a plan for an association of nations that would be satisfactory. Knox said, "I am assured he will" but he most distinctly did not say that he acquired that assurance out of his conference with Harding. Decidedly not. He had distinctly the air of meaning that he was sure that the plan would be satisfactory because he, and the other irreconcilables, proposed to stand by and make it satisfactory. Satisfactory that is to the irreconcilables.

Then some one asked if he and the other irreconcilable senators had been disturbed by reports that Harding was veering toward Taft and the friends of the league and that Harding's new plan was going to include entering into a modified form of the present league. Knox replied with unmistakable significance that he had heard such reports, but that he hadn't allowed them to disturb him, because he knew they were a contradiction of a Harding's campaign promises and the verdict of the people in the election. There was some more talk with the same drift and then Knox, of his own initiative, did the unusual and unmistakably bellicose thing. He said that before leaving Washington he had prepared statement of his position that he had delivered this statement to Harding and left it with him, and that he had no objection to letting the newspapermen have a copy of it.

As a man who had carefully staged the episode he drew the paper from his inside pocket making at the same time the controversialist lawyer like introduction that "This is my suggestion to Harding and in no sense presume to reflect what is in Senator Harding's mind."

The statement recited that, immediately after March fourth, Knox will reintroduce his resolution for a separate peace with Germany, parenthetically added that he was sure the senate would pass the resolution.

The statement repeated the text of the resolution providing for a separate peace with Germany by joint resolution of congress for the disposition of German property in the United States and other necessary details of such a piece and for the president to negotiate a new treaty of commerce and amity with Germany. To this resolution for peace with Germany by joint action of Congress Senator Knox said he would add a paragraph as follows. This, of course, being in effect Knox's substitute for the league of nations. "It is the declared policy of the United States in order to meet fully and fairly our obligations to ourselves and to the world that the freedom and peace of Europe being again threatened by any power or combination of powers the United States will regard such a situation with grave concern, as a menace to its own peace and freedom will consult with other powers affected with a view to devising means for the removal of such menace, and will the necessity arising in the future, co-operate with the friends of civilization for its defense."

"That is Knox's substitute for the league of nations. This is his plan for what he called "An association of nation." That is what Knox set forth to Harding as his alternative and contrast to the plan that Harding has been working on. It should be said that to the text of his resolution Knox appended a lengthy explanation showing how it would work; he said it would not interfere with a separate movement for the formation follow.

of an international court and other separate plans for disarmament.

This statement should be read in full by persons who wish to examine the merits of Knox's plan.

The whole significance of this Knox episode is interpreted by the more nature mind among the observers here to mean that Knox does not stand alone, that he drew this statement up in consultation with several other irreconcilable Republican senators. That is, in effect, a declaration by these senators that they will fight the plan that Harding has been evolving through conference with "best minds" outside the senate and that going even further these senators propose to insist upon the fight for a larger share in the management of American foreign relations encroaching as far as they can on the customary prerogative of the president in that field.

Two questions now arise the first is how many other senators are back of Knox. Our guess, here in Marion, is that Knox has got behind him a considerable force, a force measurably larger than the irreconcilable group was last winter. Before he left Washington I knew of more than one convert that the irreconcilables have recruited. The second question obviously is what course will Harding

"I'M HAPPIEST WOMAN IN AKRON" SHE STATES

Mrs. Beach Says She Feels Like Telling the World What Tanlac Did For Her—Suffered Eleven Years.

"I just know I'm the happiest woman in Akron today and when I think of the way Tanlac has brought me out of my troubles I feel like telling the whole world about it," was the enthusiastic statement made by Mrs. Jennie Beach, of 951 Liberty St., Akron, Ohio.

"For eleven long years I never knew what it was to eat a meal without suffering. My kidneys bothered me constantly, and my back hurt like it would break. My liver also was badly disordered and my nerves were completely shattered. In fact I had a complication of troubles that made life a burden to me I woke up every morning feeling miserable and just felt weak, nervous and worn-out all day long.

"Well, I read a Tanlac testimonial that fitted my case so well that I got a bottle of the medicine and began taking it myself. By the time I had finished my second bottle I saw a wonderful improvement in my condition. I have now taken seven bottles of Tanlac, and every one of my troubles are gone and I am a well woman. It seems almost too good to be true that I am in such splendid health after suffering so long, and I can't find words to fully express my gratitude to Tanlac."

The work is not at all burdensome, but it does require exactness. The labor attached is comparatively nothing and the interest in the work and the pleasure which comes with acquired knowledge is a rich reward for a little time given the public service.

Any one having knowledge of a man interested in such research will confer a favor on the authorities at Columbus and Washington, D. C. as well as keeping the local community "bitched up right" by communicating with Mr. Arthur.

Cincinnati, Ohio.—"Hats on" in elevators, even though there may be women passenger is the slogan of the Cincinnati Building Owners and Managers' Association which has started a crusade to that end. Whether they will win their contention that the removal of hats in crowded elevators is a menace to passengers in the immediate vicinity of those who take off their headgear remains to be seen for many prominent Cincinnati women are opposed to this old-fashioned courtesy. "The habit," said Captain W. M. McIntyre president of the association "was introduced by southern people traveling in the north. Originally I understand, negroes were required to remove their hats on entering elevators and in time white men followed the example when women were on the lift. On the same principle why do not men take off their hats when traveling in a street car which also contains women passengers."

POOR DISTRESSED BY ORDER ISSUED BY GOVERNMENT

Madrid, (By Mail).—The poor of this city have been greatly distressed by an order of the government against the operations of illegal pawnbrokers. Thousands of the workers rely upon pawnshops to tide them over a period of unemployment. Heretofore, they have had recourse to the Monte de piedad, the official pawnshop, which was established to loan small amounts to the needy poor at a low rate of interest on security of pledged articles. Now, however, it has been turned into a haven of refuge for extravagant folk who pawn their jewels at high rates of interest. The poorer people were thus driven away and compelled to resort to numerous small shops where they could borrow under the pretense of selling their valuables, but with the tacit understanding that the shopkeeper would allow them to redeem their goods at a heavy rate of interest. The Minister of Interior has stopped this by issuing a royal order forbidding such transactions. In consequence, the poor people are unable to recover their goods from the shopkeepers. Public-spirited Spaniards are taking steps to induce the government to restore the Monte de piedad to its original purpose and make it cater to the poor.

PLAN SAFELY For 1921

A sound money reserve is the surest anchor for success in the year to come. That money reserve, deposited here, earns 6 per cent. Thus safety and good return may be had on funds not necessary in business.

Every person and every business should set aside this reserve. While the prospects for good business in 1921 are bright, no one can know what the year may bring forth.

Our certificates of deposit are profitable in more senses than one. They help build up the community, providing employment, moving goods and stimulating business as well.

The fairness of the plan under which this company operates and the sound business foresight its directors have displayed are the best assurance of the proper use of your money, which is loaned on first mortgages on Columbus real estate.

WM. A. ARTHUR TO SURRENDER LOCAL WEATHER BUREAU POST

If Suitable Successor Can Be Found This County Will Still Retain Place.

In Organization Which Gathers and Preserves Data for the Public

Hundreds of people, aside from their feeling of personal regard, in Washington C. H., and Fayette County will join with Mr. W. H. Alexander, Meteorologist of Ohio in his expression of regret, over the announced retirement from the service of Mr. W. A. Arthur of this city.

For a number of years Mr. Arthur has made daily observations of the weather conditions, in this locality for the State Bureau and has kept a record of temperatures, rain, fall and other happenings of the elements of importance.

Failing health has issued a decree that Mr. Arthur surrender the work which he has done with such accuracy and faithfulness. His successor has not been named.

Not only are the observations of the local weather recorder and reporter interesting and important to us here at home, but these local representatives are each but a unit in the great state and nation wide organization which has been of such vital assistance to men in all walks of life especially in the rural districts.

We have learned to depend and to plan a great deal on the prophecies of the weather bureaus and in doing so we pay little attention to how it is made up—of local observers.

Mr. Alexander is now looking about for a suitable successor to Mr. Arthur in this territory. If one can be found he will not be compelled to close the local department and none of us here in Fayette county want the local post to be abandoned.

EATING PLENTY BUT STARVING THE BLOOD

You Ought To Feel All Right But Somehow Don't

More Red Blood Cells Are Needed

Pepto-Mangan Enriches the Blood and Supplies the Necessary Red-Blood Cells

When you know you are not sick, but don't feel well—when you get tired more easily than people your age should—when you can't get up the energy to do the things you know you would enjoy doing, build up your red blood cells with Gude's Pepto-Mangan.

If your blood is weak you cannot be vigorous in body or cheerful in mind. Pepto-Mangan contains the elements that make rich, healthy blood. And as a result of the increased supply of red blood that Pepto Mangan creates the entire system attains the vigor that belongs to every man and woman.

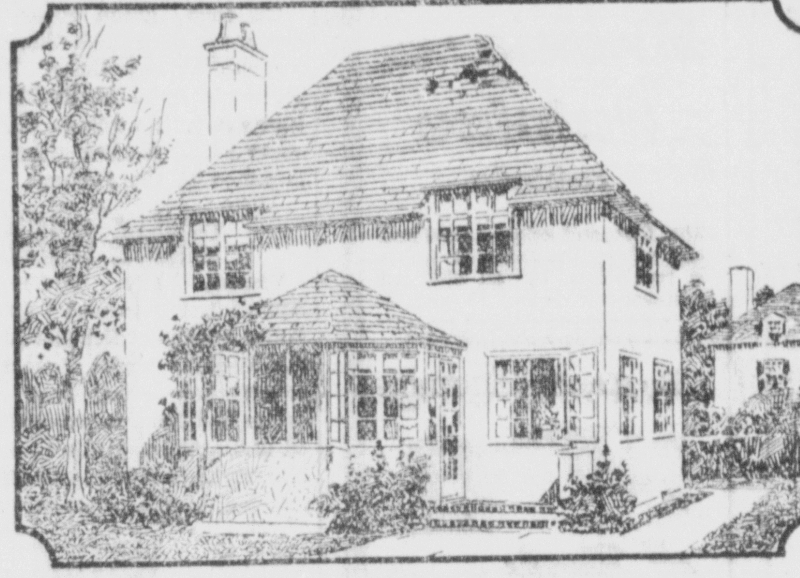

Results from taking Pepto-Mangan show promptly. You feel benefited after a few days and much stronger in a few weeks. If you do not, consult a physician. You may have some deep-seated illness for which a blood- tonic such as Pepto-Mangan is not sufficient.

Pepto-Mangan is prepared in two forms, liquid and tablets. They are exactly alike in medical value.

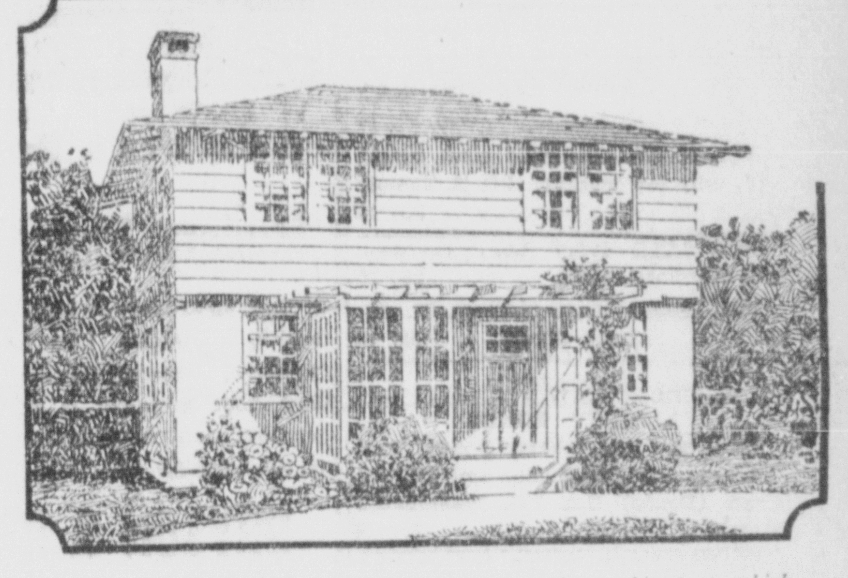

Ask your druggist for "Gude's" when ordering Pepto-Mangan. Look for the name "Gude's" on the package.—Adv.

Chauncey C-523. The Colonial home breathes of human associations, of family ties, of fireside happiness. It possesses the spirit of the hearth. It is a distinctive American architectural expression.

Joslyn C-524. There is no pretense about the English home. Its charm lies in its simplicity. It is extremely distinctive because of its low and rambling mass, its steep roof and its tall chimney.

Silsbee C-525. The Western house is a native architecture, which is not confined to any certain part of the country. This type of house is expressive of the trend of present day homebuilding.

Three Houses From One Plan

WOULD you ever think that the three houses above all have the same floor plan? Of course, there's a little difference here and there. But the general room arrangement and floor plan is identical in all three houses. The variety obtained with this convenient five-room layout is carried throughout the interior through the use of standard designs of Curtis Woodwork. These houses, with the Curtis Woodwork for them, are simply representative of our service to prospective builders.

Building a home is for most people a very important step in life. For many it is the culmination of years of hoping and planning. If when completed it is not all that you thought and wished it might be, you will be keenly disappointed.

The three houses pictured here are of three different architectural types—Colonial, English and Western. They are representative of 226 houses that were designed for users of Curtis Woodwork by Trowbridge & Ackerman, Architects, of New York.

Through our co-operation with the manufacturers of Curtis Woodwork, we have a most unusual plan service for homebuilders. This service covers 206 houses of from three to eight rooms, and 20 houses especially designed for farm use. The 226 plans have been developed from 58 basic plans, and every plan is shown in at least three architectural types—Colonial, English, and Western. There are also houses of Southern type.

The different designs of Curtis Woodwork as shown in the small illustrations give you an idea of the beauty and practicability of all Curtis Woodwork. Because of standardization and quantity production Curtis Woodwork is not expensive. The savings effected in production through standardization are passed on to you, the homebuilder.

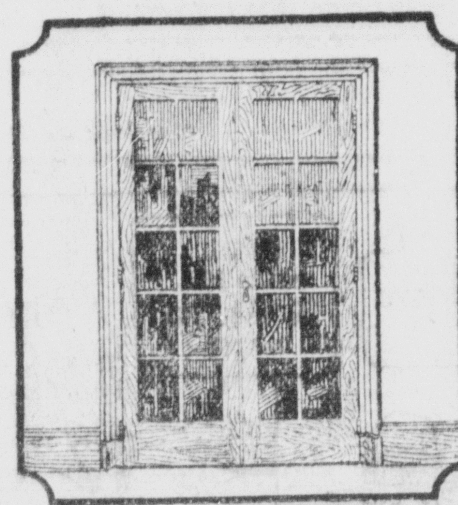

To give you a first glimpse at your new home and show you just how it will look when completed, we will obtain a "Better Built Homes" portfolio for you, without charge. These portfolios are in three volumes—VI, VII and VIII. Each portfolio contains exterior and interior illustrations, floor plans, and complete descriptions of 32 homes; eight of them pictured in colors and others are illustrated from photographs. When you tell us the size of the house you are interested in, we will be glad to send you the book of your choice.

Then, once you have decided on a particular house design, we will tell you what it will cost, and will furnish complete plans to build it. In this way you will know just what your home is going to cost before actual work has begun.

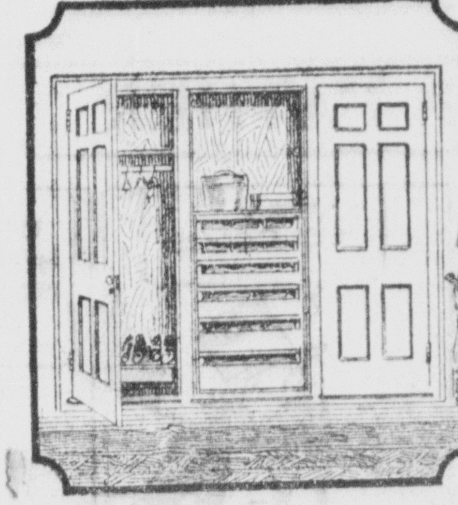

Begin now to act on realizing your dreams of a home of your own by talking over your homebuilding plans with us.

In C-523, the Colonial home shown above, this graceful Colonial stair adds its beauty to one end of the living room.

In Joslyn C-524 these French doors separate the living room from the dining room. Other designs of Curtis Woodwork are also used.

Each of the houses shown above has its own distinctive Curtis Woodwork. In Silsbee C-525, this tray case is built-in in one of the bedrooms.

INDIA FACING GRAVEST CRISIS OF HER HISTORY

London, (By Mail)—India today is faced with what is generally characterized as one of the gravest crises in its history owing to the deep and widespread unrest which has developed since the end of the war. While this discontent is the product of numerous causes, in the main it is the result of the high cost of living and the consequent hardships for the population.

The unrest has recently manifested itself in various and serious ways. There have been many great strikes in the large industrial centers, in some cases accompanied by rioting and bloodshed. Organized by anti-government boycotts have been instituted. Moreover, extremists have been preaching revolutionary ideas with the result that, as announced recently in Commons by Mr. Montagu Secretary of State for India, there have been several prosecutions and convictions under the seditious meetings act.

There has been much talk in the Western world of activities by Bolshevik propaganda agents in India. Competent observers state, however, that it is doubtful whether the efforts of the Bolsheviks to stir up trouble have met with much success. In this connection it is pointed out that the printed propaganda upon which the Bolsheviks depend so much is of little value in India where not read. Thus the Bolshevik ideals must be spread by word of mouth, a considerable task in a country the size of India; however, there is no dispute.

NOTABLE PROGRESS OF OHIO TEACHERS READING CIRCLE

Columbus, Ohio.—The scope and magnitude of the Ohio Teachers' Reading Circle and the Ohio Pupils' Reading Circle, both of which grew from humble beginning, is shown in a report recently by W. S. Coy, manager of the two. The teachers' circle was organized in 1883, to recommend a number of books each year, which all teachers, especially the young ones just starting in, might read with much professional profit. Some 5000 to 6000 sets of three books each, to the total value of $21,600, were sold this year.

The Ohio Pupils' Reading Circle was formed fifteen years ago, with the object to recommend to pupils of each grade in elementary and high schools a number of best books annually in the hope that youngsters, in the impressionable years, would be led to a taste for good wholesome reading.

This year, 14,000 to 15,000 pupils' sets of three books each, aggregating $33,000, have been sold. Four years ago, sales only amounted to $6500.

Officials of the circle are satisfied with the growth, but, according to Coy, if all counties were to buy pupils' reading circle books, as a few counties do, sales would reach several hundreds of thousands of dollars a year.

Banner counties in purchases are Auglaize, Belmont, Stark, Seneca, Mercer, Muskingum, Jefferson, Franklin, Jackson and Athens, Coy said. Practically no books go into Highland Putnam, Delaware, Adams, Meigs and Carroll counties.

To each grade every year four books are suggested. The course calls for reading any three. When a pupil reads three books four years in succession, he gets a diploma. For every year's reading after that, a seal is added to the diploma.

CRIME GROWS

Vienna, (By Mail)—Crime in Vienna has increased 5-fold this year. Police President Schober has just told the Vienna Trade Association. He added that every case of serious crime had been successfully prosecuted and attributed this to the co-operation of the judges and to 49 physicians attached to the police staff.
